Presidents Message

I was astounded but pleased to have been elected president, and am looking forward to the year's commitments.

I would like to thank last year's committee for another well-organised and enjoyable year of orienteering, and I am sure that the new committee will carry on with the same enthusiastic input.

Two points of discussion were brought out at the AGM:

1. Our declining membership, and the need for all of us to encourage friends and friends of friends to come along and try orienteering.
2. Coaching of different levels being available at all events.

The committee will be looking for some practical solutions to these problems and would welcome your ideas.

A new coaching magazine for 7 to 13 year olds has been published on behalf of the NZOF and the HBOC has bought copies which it is distributing to primary schools throughout the Bay. This will hopefully give pupils a chance to learn and experience the thrill of orienteering and a taste for the sport that will encourage them to join a club in years to come.

I would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy Orienteering Year.

Gerard van Veen

The Start : (A simple telephone call.)

"Dave ? Stewart Hyslop here. I'm setting the Rowe road relays on sunday and i need a helper. would you like to helo ?"

"Yes, love to Stewart, but what's a relay? I've never run in an orienteering relay event."

"Well, you have teams of three runners, and for the club we set three courses, one short, one medium and one long."

"OK, Stewart, seems straight forward enough. Fewer courses than a normal club event, a good event to do for the first time !"

The Middle : (A personal visit.)

"Hi Dave, here are the maos. I've drawn a sample of how you might like to arrange the courses. We could start down on the flats and have a 'clover leaf' design, each leg the length of a short course, then the medium and long courses run two and three legs. It's just an idea, try drawing up some courses."

With maos and ideas supplied all that was left was a visit to the area and then draw the courses !

"Stewart, Dave Fisher here. The farmers ploughed up the flats so i'll have to shift the proposed start." (So much for everyone looking forward to lunch by the river.)

"OK Dave, it's up to you, start wherever you think is best. I've been thinking about the 'clover leaf' design, it might be a little difficult to make all courses the same, how about a figure eight design with multiple controls ?"

"Why multiple control ?"

"So as everybody at the mass start is running to a different control then nobody can blindly follow the person in front."

"How many teams do we expect to be in the mass start ?"

"About six."

"So that makes 6 different but similar courses for the short leg. I'll have to have another look at the mao !"

The End. (Time to rest)

Armed with the maos, master clip cards, course descriptions, pens, clocks and lots more besides, with controls in place, I'm ready.

Get you all started, pour a cup of tea, put my feet up and watch the medium and long course runners struggle by, and enjoy it all.

The Footnote.

The courses were designed! perhaps, to take 20 minutes, 40 minute and 60 minutes; probably in the order of short, medium and long. The medium and long courses were designed on the principle that 'it's always easier the second time', as you all probably noticed coming up the hill to the finish.

The last point to mention is the pit, i promise not to use it again.

Thanks to Stewart Hyslop for the 'simple telephone call, clover leafs and figure eights, i would have been lost without his help.

Gwavas - Still a Trial

"Gwavas was a Trial" was the logo printed on the T/Shirts for Hawkes Bay's very first badge event. It was also the first time we used the colour map of the area and the first time the Mardons had orienteered in a forest. The results show that none of us performed with any brilliance. We have been back to Gwavas many times since then but I still consider it a trial. Of all the Hawkes Bay maps it is still the one that needs total concentration - one slip and suddenly you aren't where you should be!

Setting courses presents a mixture of problems. The map abounds in good control sites for the more difficult and long courses but it is very difficult to set a course easy enough for the younger and less experienced orienteer. Unfortunately the area around the picnic site which was ideal for the younger folk is now overgrown with gorse and so unusable.

The weather was beautiful the whole weekend and we had an excellent turnout of club members and a large contingent travelled up from Palmerston North. We enjoyed setting the courses and hope you enjoyed running them.

Map ers Call

While I enjoy any opportunity to get into the wide open spaces, perhaps the best is to explore, and while orienteering is exploring in its own way, I have found out that mapping is way out on its own.

I will never forget the moment we penetrated the edge of the Douglas Fir and realised we had found the Promised Land, or the day Roger Bee and I tramped the sides of the Gwavas gorge with James Watson on the bottom using two way radio to find that it was possible to cross it. It is not always successful, it took Dave Cooke many months before he hit that golden day at Esk, and the first time we visited Crohane some years ago I ran 50 meters into the trees dodging the prunings until they got too thick to pass through and I had to admit defeat.

But last December Colin Tait and I returned to Crohane, the prunings had been tramped down and we had that prize again - a runnable forest. The exploring doesn't stop when you have found a new area, that's only the start. Stewart Hyslop produces a contour map at NZ Aerial Mapping Ltd and the field checking begins. This is as much fun as the exploring. You never know what is round the next bend or over the next spur. Animal tracks lead you through the thickest fight and down "impassable" cliffs into the famous Hawkes Bay gorges. There is time to stop and admire the beauty around you which is never noticed when you are competing. I know one spot in the middle of Gwavas which is as pretty as any in Hawkes Bay, most of you have run through it at some time but have you seen it. I found it when I was mapping.

So you would like to come too? Well it just so happens that we are starting a new area shortly, why don't you phone me and see if I can find a special corner for you.

Brian Crawford.

The National Relays

At a committee meeting last winter the question arose who was going to co-ordinate the relays at Labour Weekend? Dead silence and everybody eyed his neighbour speculatively. Being a stay at home mum I realized that I probably had more time than the rest of the committee so I took a deep breath and volunteered.

Brian and his team of mappers had the map under control and we were liaising with Taupo over the programmes which they were having printed. So from that side it was just a matter of collating the entries and sending them and other relevant information up to Taupo. Colin Tait's book of words on how to run a badge event gave valuable info on the number of bodies needed on the day. But relays are different; you don't know what time the second and third leg runners are going to start. The problem of getting the start time on to the clip card seemed insurmountable and many ideas were bandied about and then tossed out. It wasn't until we had the finish area set up that the whole thing just fell into place and the event ran very smoothly.

My grateful thanks to all the helpers - those who turned out at night and wrote up clip cards and stuffed maps into bags and those who came up to Crohane and helped on the day, especially the newer members, you have been initiated into the world of badge events and Dave Fisher will appreciate your help next Easter. Would all club members put a ring around Easter 88 - you will be needed.

Many thanks also to James Watson for the loan of the loud hailer and to Heather Mardon for obtaining the use of the radios from Electricorp.

Sharon Mardon

A Word of Thanks

Mulling over the course of the Annual General Meeting I feel one point was missed.

I would like to thank Maurice and Brian for all the effort they have contributed to the success of the committees they have served on.

They have both built up such a wealth of experience and knowledge over the years it is difficult to imagine committee work without them.

Obviously we will because nobody is indispensable but they will surely be missed.

Thank you both - Stewart Hyslop

Being a reasonable beginner to orienteering and only having had 5 previous runs, I decided to go to The Nationals to gain experience in big competitions. In the M21C Grade there were 3 other competitors, Dave Fisher being the only one known to me. Spending the weekend with Dave and Stewart Hyslop, Dave and I were having fun at making plans to have the other eliminated. Later Dave had wished he had carried out at least one of those threats.

The actual course was excellent. It tested my ability or lack of it greatly (which means I only got lost three times and I was able to stop and help a couple of people who were just as lost as I was). At the finish I was inspired by the good times that other Hawkes Bay competitors had done, namely Russell Mardon, Peter Watson, Caroline Watson and Bev Tait all winning their grades, and hoping my time was good enough to beat Dave's.

After Dave had finished, the hour wait for his time to be posted seemed like an eternity. When the result was posted and I had beaten Dave by just 10 seconds I was elated but I couldn't believe that I had beaten him as in past events I have never been able to get within a bull's roar of him.

The dinner put on by the Taupo Club was a nice meal. The prize giving was fun but we cut it short due to the fact we had to be at Crohane for the National relays.

The National Relays at Crohane ran very smoothly. I would like to thank Peter Smith and Roger Munday for joining me at such short notice and making a team for the Mixed B in which we took 4th place. My thanks also to Stewart Hyslop and Dave Fisher for transport and everyone especially the Tait's for the encouragement they gave me.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

This be the final edition for 87 landlubbers - Prepare yourselves for the 88 onslaught - Rest up and be merry over the Xmas holidays for February, March and April 88 will bring hard work for all. The Mountain Marathon and 3 day badge event will both involve many of our club but the rewards will be plenty. Assistance at these events will wet your appetites for travel to other clubs major events where you can then compare the way we did it with theirs.

Thank you all for your assistance during the last year. The National Relays run by the club at Labour Weekend went very smoothly.

Let's now all get behind Ted Sapsford and Peter Watson for the Mountain Marathon and Dave Fisher for Easter. Special thanks to Colin Tait and Brian Crawford for their considerable in-committee assistance over the last years. (Both left the committee this year after many years service to the club).

Wishing you Good Orienteering in 88 -

Maurice Lloyd

Averse as I am to unnecessary travel I decided to camp out the weekend at the venue and do all the work in one go. I also broke club rules by not having a vetter for the event, but this had an advantage in that I didn't have to obtain this person's agreement to the idea.

There is absolutely no truth in the rumour that no body will work with me. It is just that I didn't ask anyone, feeling that with everyone having done their fair share at events through the year I would not impose. I am also Fixture Secretary so.....

Mark Kevin (another ex scout) and myself had the tent up and all shipshape for a good nights sleep on the Friday. The boys went searchlighting for opossum but only bagged four. Muttered something about brambles when they came back about 1.00am.

Saturday saw all the preparations completed. As I checked the control sites in went the control standard. I awoke about 1.00am to a sound reminiscent of Euston Station in the rush hour. It was raining to.

The ex scouts pretended to be asleep, so I eventually laced the doorway securely and climbed back in the sack. "Aren't you going to do anything about this pole?" said a muffled voice.

I put the torch on. Mark is sitting up holding a corner pole. Strip off the dry gear on with the wet, under the tent edge and fortunately only the peg had pulled out. I then went round and did the best I could hammering brailings into an old road.

For the rest of the night it rained and it blew. I'm sure I didn't sleep, but as the tent held secure I was grateful to lie stretched out and warm, imagining us perhaps huddled up in the car or the caravan.

At 8.00 am I went out to the road to phone Maurice and see what Hawkes Bay people were thinking.

"Oh, we are coming" said Maurice quite brightly considering he had a hangover. The weather cleared from then on and everything went rather well.

Because it was the Club Champs I made courses A B and C hard. I reckon you have to earn those certificates. Congratulations to all winners. I found the map excellent to work on, but you do need another person helping. There are all these gates you see .....

I picked the start site because I thought it would make a lovely spot for a family picnic. I did the same at Smedley about three years ago. Seems a sure recipe for a deluge.

10 Pin Bowling and Night Event and Pernel Orchard

During a telephone conversation with Maurice I made a light hearted jest about having a night run around our orchard after 10 Pin Bowling. I thought no more about it until Sharon told me Maurice had taken me up on it and I had to produce a map forthwith. Luckily our kids had done a map some years ago, but it was well out of date. A late night effort got it done. Unfortunately there was several mistakes (one pump shed missing, one loo in the wrong place.) The rows of trees on wires I marked on in haste not thinking people would actually count them. I only meant them to be a representation. My apologies to those who had trouble especially Philip Allerby.

Although we needed the rain on the orchard it was a pity it had to start that night - still I don't think it upset too many and the thought of some liquid refreshment no doubt spurred a few on.

What a great turnout for the ten pin bowling; perhaps we should precede other club events with a visit there! It was certainly good though to see that nearly everyone came on to the night event. I feel there must be a message in the results of the bowling for me. The fact that I got the highest score (with Kylie Watson's help) must indicate that the hand is closer to the brain than to the feet! (Editor's note - This orchardist would make a very good Chinese philosopher!).

My results at orienteering would certainly suggest it's time I gave up and took up bowling.

1988 MACPAC MOUNTAIN MARATHON

After nine months of effort Ted has completed setting, checking and re-checking the courses for our Mountain Marathon.

In conjunction with the Heretaunga Tramping Club we are now checking radio reception and estimated finishing times for the various courses.

We are currently reviewing the person power requirements. We will need help from Friday 19th February to Sunday 21st February from club members who do not intend entering the event. If you are able to assist please contact Ted Sapsford [798-993]

To ensure that Hawke's Bay's reputation for the organisation of events is maintained we will need the support of the club.

puzzlefirstaid

For those of you who attempted the puzzle in September 1987's Compass Points I have listed below one way of attacking it.

1. Read all the clues to try and determine its weakest point [my first reaction was it was impregnable]
2. Reread all the clues to determine what you missed in your first attempt and you find that the first numbers in 8 across and 11 across must be '1'
3. Using the fact that 9 down ends in a '1' the '12 down clue' and the '15 across clue' you have to determine by trial and error what 10 across and 10 down must be.
4. This gives you the answers to 8 down, 9 down, 12 down, 15 across, 16 across and the 2nd number in 11 across.
5. Using 8 down and 15 across you can determine the answer to 14 across.
6. You now re-gather your wits for the final assault and one possibility is to determine the answer to 7 down. 14 across in combination with the possible answers to 6 across gives you the minimum and maximum 'breadths' of dog mead and you already have the last three numbers in 7 down. Using the square root button on your calculator you can determine what 7 down must be.
7. 7 down in turn will give you 1 across, 6 across 7 across and 6 down.
8. 6 down will give you 11 across and 11 across in turn will give you 8 across, 3 down and 13 down.
9. 5 across and 2 down can then be determined at your leisure.

The solution will be published in the next issue of Compass Points.

Note 1 The Triathalon will be at the Havelock North Swimming Baths finishing at the Tuki Tuki map but there will be changes to the longer event from last year.

The swim will remain at 300 metres but the cycling will have some hill work and the orienteering will be more difficult, thus enabling the poor swimmers a chance to gain lost time (ie P Watson)

Note 2 The 27th February is a Saturday. Suggested 5.30 start for a Barbecue by the river, and the orienteering starts in the dusk. This is the last weekend of daylight saving and it will be a late night. Good spooky fun.

The new Committee for 1988 includes:

GERRARD VAN VEEN	-	President
PETER WATSON	-	Secretary/Treasurer
PHILIP ALLERBY	-	Social Convenor
DAVID FISHER	-	Stewart's Right Hand Man
STEWART HYSLOP	-	Fixtures Officer
SHARON MARDON	-	Equipment Officer
