EDITORIAL

I have very happily taken on the responsibility of editing our club newsletter. I took on the role because it will keep me in touch with everything (and I mean everything!) that is going on with the club and its members. I also wanted to give something back to the club that I have enjoyed being a part of for a year now.

Giving back to the club is something that I never really thought about until recently. I've never played sports or belonged to a formal club in the past, so when I joined the HBOC I came along, paid my money, ran (okay – walked) my course, and went home.

What I have now come to realise is that there is a HUGE amount of work required to make the club what it is. The committee members are the key to the success of the club – they are the organisational and motivational force behind the club; they hold the club together and keep it growing.

But the committee could not drive the club on its own, and that's where you come in. Club members give invaluable support by providing resources (such as a park for the caravan); setting courses; providing technical skills (such as OCAD mapping); and providing a lot of other services.

Next time you wonder who brought the fruit that tastes so good after a run, who brought the clean water out from town, who dug the toilet, or who collected the controls when an event was over, remember that it was a club member like you!

Well the Summer Series is over, and I surprised myself by enjoying it! When I first heard about it, I wasn't too keen. A major part of the appeal of orienteering to a city girl like me is the Sunday drive into the countryside, and the wander through fields and forests.

Although the Summer Series doesn't have the great scenery of Sunday orienteering, it has other qualities that make it better than Sunday orienteering:

- It's a good run over asphalt and sports fields, with no climbing, twisted ankles, or cowpats
- It's quick – for some events, I could leave home, do an event, and be back home within an hour
- It's midweek – okay, okay, I know this is tough for some, but for me it was great to have a planned opportunity for exercise midweek, when I normally struggle to find the time
- The courses – I enjoyed doing course types that I'd never done before at the summer series, both the 'any order' sort and the 'x of y' sort (Havelock North) (These courses are also simpler to set than normal courses)

Well, I trust my first magazine makes the grade – any suggestions or contributions will be gratefully accepted!

Linda.

Black Green & White

we are DYNAMITE!!

We have certainly hit the decks running this year, with a great evening Summer Series. We have used our new colour maps of Frimley, Anderson Park, Akina and Havelock High for the first time and this may have helped to produce some tremendous turnouts of members and visitors for the series. There are not a great many orienteering opportunities in the first couple of months of the year to get tuned up for the Nationals at Easter and the Summer Series has given us a chance to stretch our legs and to start thinking about maps again.

Congratulations to Hamish Goodwin on a wonderful run in the Coast to Coast. Hamish has been working on it for a few years now and it has all come together this year in his win in the veterans' class. Ten days later he headed Geoff Morrison off to win by just one second in our Akina event. Geoff is no slouch across the ground, so Hamish must have speed as well as stamina.

And congratulations too to Max Kerrison and his team on another very successful Kaweka Challenge over the weekend 17-18 February. The customers just love this event, which the club puts on each year in conjunction with the Heretaunga Tramping Club and the Amateur Radio Club. About 340 competitors from all over the North Island turned out to enjoy another masochistic weekend in the rain, the highest number of starters for about eight years. Our club members on the organising committee are Max, Erica Hobbs, Philip Mardon, Tim Jowett, Josie Boland and Doug Matheson.

The next challenge to confront us, just as we will confront our opposition, is the Katoa Po, the Taupo Orienteering Club's magic all-night relays. Your orienteering experience is not complete until you have taken part in this event. You will see (or not see, as the case may be) what I mean.

See you out there some place.

Alan

HAWKE'S BAY
WINE COUNTRY
3-DAY
2-4 JUNE, 2001

UPDATE FEBRUARY, 2001

Organisation of our 3-Day event in June is preceding well, with a number of club members working away in the background. For those of you who may not have seen it, our event logo (left) has been developed using the very popular "Wine Country" branding. Hopefully it might help draw a few more city-dwellers to the Bay for QB weekend! I hope to have event t-shirts available with this printed on the front.

As far as the orienteering is concerned, we have had to reschedule the events because of forestry operations. We are now staging three classic length events on the following maps:

June 2	Arborfield
June 3	Te Awanga
June 4	Rochfort

Course setters and controllers for these events are: Terry Russell/ Alan Berry
Geoff Morrison/ Max Kerrison
Richard Lynn/ Ken Holst

Another person doing a fantastic job, behind the scenes, is Mark Hudson, who has been responsible for setting up an excellent website for the event. Have a look at his efforts at:

http://www.geocities.com/mark_a_hudson.geo/winecountry/

The event entry form is currently being prepared and is due to be distributed to other clubs in mid-March.

WANTED

I need 3 other club members, who would like to assist with the event organisation. These people will be responsible for entries, personnel and equipment.

The most immediate concern is for someone to take charge of entries. This job involves receiving lots of mail (hopefully), processing the entry (simple computer input & filing) and banking the entry fees. If this sounds like you, then please give me a call.

Personnel – someone to organise club members during the actual running of the event, so that all the jobs that need to be done, get done. Needed about mid-May.

Equipment – someone to organise all the club and special equipment requirements for a large event. Needed from early May onwards.

So if you think that you may like to help out, then please give me a call.

GENERAL MANAGER

Stuart Payne of Christchurch commenced duties as NZOF General Manager on 1 January. As this position replaces the previous ones of NZOF Secretary and Treasurer, members are reminded that all administration and financial correspondence should now go to the General Manager. The address is as follows (note there is no change to the email address):

NZOF General Manager
Stuart Payne
171A Fifield Terrace
Opawa
CHRISTCHURCH 8002
Ph (03) 337 2275
Email: nzof@nzorienteeing.com

SI REPRESENTATIVE TO NZOF COUNCIL

South Island Clubs should note that now Stuart holds the General Manager position a new SI Rep to the NZOF Council should be selected as soon as possible.

APPOINTMENTS AND VACANCIES

NZOF is pleased to announce the appointment of Rob Crawford as JWOC coach/manager for 2001 and Michael Wood as AMPRO Liaison Officer. With his move to Australia, Ted van Geldermalsen has resigned as a selector. The new convenor of selectors is Marquita Gelderman and there is now a vacancy on the selectors panel (see advertisement in New Zealand Orienteering).

JWOC INTERIM SQUAD

In line with the JWOC policy approved last year, the selectors have announced the following interim squad for the 2001 championships. The final team will be selected from this group after trials have been held.

Women: Felicity Anderson, Penny Kane, Lise Moen, Fiona Monks, Lara Prince

Men: James Bradshaw, Greg Flynn, Paul Frith, Andrew McCarthy, David Stewart

DEVELOPMENT SQUAD 2001

The D-Squad for 2001 is:

Women: Lisa Frith (PAPO), Antoinette Fotherby (AOC), Victoria Glover (WOC), Amy Holden (WOC), Penny Kane (WOC), Lise Moen (NWOC), Fiona Monks (DOC), Claire Paterson (RKOC), Lara Prince (PAPO)

DEVELOPMENT REPORT ON BEST PRACTICE

Robyn Davidson presented her report "Examination of the Best Practice of Sports Clubs and Organisations on Increasing Participation and Club Membership" to the Council and it is now under consideration. The outcome of the report will be used to define the next NZOF development project. Applications for Development Officer are still required, to undertake this.

STRATEGIC PLAN

President Rob Crawford circulated in December the first outcome of last year's strategic planning process. The draft Strategic Plan, "Finding Our Way: Participation, Retention and Performance" is set to guide us through the period 2001-2004. This is your chance to have your say – comments are still invited. If you haven't seen the report and would like to, get in touch with the General Manager.

MEMBERSHIP PASSES 1500

Total membership (social and affiliated) for 2000 increased for the second successive year and has now reached 1513.

INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE VOLUNTEER

The Hillary Commission has advised us that 2001 is the International Year of the Volunteers (IYV). Clubs might like to consider how they could take advantage of this; more information will be made available as it comes to hand.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

This will be held at Rotorua in conjunction with the National Championships at Easter. The annual meeting will be held at 7:30 pm on Saturday 14 April. There will be elections for the positions of President and Vice-President. Nominations are sought for both positions. The incumbent president will offer himself for re-election while the position of vice-president will be filled for the first time.

Clubs are also reminded that remits regarding proposals for NZOF funding will also be on the agenda.

SEMINARS AND COACHING BONANZA

Several seminars will be held at Rotorua on the afternoon of Good Friday preceding the Nationals. These are currently being finalised but likely topics are: Who's Afraid of the Media Wolf; Tribal-O, Beach-O and other variations; and Maths, Geography and Orienteering. It's hoped that at least one of these will capture the imagination of each participant. Then in the week following Easter, leading up to the NI Secondary School Champs, there will be a Coaching Bonanza at Taupo. Look out for the publicity brochure or contact the Coaching Director Jean Cory-Wright.

JUNIOR NEWS

Congratulations to Todd Oates on being included in the NZOF Development squad. This squad is made up of the up and coming orienteers who are looking at the next step into the elite competition or qualifying for a spot in the New Zealand junior team to the Junior World Cup. Both Todd and Mikaela Harker enjoyed the last squad camp held in the Manawatu in January.

With major Secondary School events coming up in April, hopefully students in the club are starting to look to put teams together. The NISS champs are in Taupo in the first holidays and the HBSS champs are held in May.

Taupo are also putting together a NI Y7/8 individual and relay and we should have big fields for both our Primary and Y7/8 event in May. So get your teams ready.

There were some excellent performances in the summer series by some of our juniors. Hopefully they can transfer that form from the parks to the farms and forests.

I am planning a junior coaching day on March 18th, especially for people stepping up to yellow and orange courses. I might include red if I have the required coaching available. There will be more information about the day soon. Let me know your availability so I can plan accordingly.

Dear Hawke's Bay O-Club!

This is a big thank-you for asking me to attend the D-squad camp in January! It was a brilliant experience though a very challenging and tiring one!

We ran on a great variety of maps, including one we mapped ourselves. This was the night-O, for which I was really excited. I charged into the sand dunes with a tiny torch and sketchy map but I didn't get lost as expected, however I had a lot of difficulty with the last control (it was moving!).

Aside from this, there were many other activities such as hot swims, leg wrestling, and handstand competitions which provided excellent entertainment!

The Turkey Trot and Traverse at the end of the week were thoroughly enjoyable also (apart from the native bush!). In the Traverse I was given the incorrect last two maps so did a lot more running than I'd bargained for, but despite this it was my favourite race of the week.

The coaches and members and three Swedish extras were all awesome people with lots of knowledge and experience which they were more than willing to share. They were also superfit, and it's going to be challenging bringing my shoe life down from two years to two months!

At the moment I'm very motivated and inspired to put what I've learnt to good use!

Thanks very much,

Yours sincerely

Mikaela Harker.

(P.S. Southlanders will come to fear the green, white and black!)

- Messrs. Fisher, Lee and Russell got their new season off to a bad start at Napier BHS. Deciding that they did not need to read any instructions, they proceeded to make it easy for themselves by copying the controls from both 'Map A' and 'Map B' onto their map at the same time. Early indications were that their exceedingly fast times were an indication of a strenuous training regime over the summer but on reflection and looking at the state of the competitors involved it was unanimously agreed that the times were only achieved through foul means.
- Graham Barrett rolled up to Anderson Park in his 'new' car but unfortunately, during his run, lost his keys. To make matters worse, these were the only set that had come with the car. A call to AA was required, but complicating the matter more was the fact that he was not a member. But like a good boxer, light on his feet, with a sharp brain, he called up his Father (or was it in-law) who lived nearby, who was a member, to render assistance via his card.
- Josie had entertainment of the X variety on her course at Frimley. Two young (about 17) students, (Jenny might know them!), were doing a course. Josie, approaching them from behind, couldn't believe it when the young lass sneaked up behind the young lad and pulled his shorts down. But she got more than she bargained for because not only did she pull his shorts down, but also his boxers.
- Ken got accosted by the duty teacher at Lindisfarne for lurking around the hostels at the Frimley event. Despite his protestations, Ken's excuses fell on deaf ears. Possibly the teacher would've understood had he known about Ken's wayward orienteering technique.
- Josie (again) wanted a helping hand to negotiate a high fence at Frimley, and who better to help than the next person along, the honourable man, Mr. Fisher. After a quick mutual agreement to help each other's cause on crossing the fence, Mr. Fisher gave Josie a helping leg up, to which Josie thanked him, leapt down the other side, clipped the control and ran off, leaving our honourable man stranded.

- Anderson Park had one control by a park seat. Access was rather difficult at times, as for a while it was occupied by a couple of smooching young Indians.
- Sharon was up one of the dead end streets on the Akina map. But once she'd clipped the control, she had to return the way she'd gone in. That was until she was invited by an owner to run through their property in a short cut to Akina Park.
- The night relay teams were affected because of a major event happening in Havelock North that same evening – Jenni Barrett's 40th birthday. Quite a few orienteers are attending and the suggestion that perhaps it be held in Taupo were scotched because it was felt Graham would have other ideas! Mmm.
- We hadn't seen much of David and Karen Kamper recently, and we now know why – Karen has just produced a baby. Congratulations!

SUMMER SERIES #1 – NAPIER BOYS' HIGH SCHOOL– 24 January 2001

It was a hot, sultry evening, the kind when you like your martinis wet.

The Godfather had called me to a secret meeting where I was set upon by a short, balding man with a bad twitch in his left eye; he said his name was Erik or Derek and he had a job for me.

I had a feeling this was just the start of something bigger. We organised another meeting away from prying eyes and wagging ears in a seedy part of town. He brought me all the information and clues he had and said he had to get out of town till things cooled down.

So the big night arrived, a hot dry wind blowing from across the desert. I was sitting behind my desk when a sultry blonde sauntered up to me with a business-like gleam in here eyes. Sharon said she wanted to check all the clues before any evidence was corrupted by some less reputable players. You couldn't help but admire such enthusiasm.

Then they opened the floodgates at the Hoover Dam, pouring competitors down on me. The usual faces showed up to throw their hats in the ring and try to solve the mystery of Summer Series No. 1 – "Boys' High".

Unfortunately some scurrilous tramps tried to put one over one me, but I have a nose for these less desirable types and ejected them from the game.

Once the dust had settled, I could finally read my shorthand notes. One man stood head and shoulders above the rest (when standing on the bonnet of a car). Ross blitzed all comers, deciphering all the clues and coming up with the right answer – Rev Green with the dagger in the ballroom! Well done Cluedo King of Napier Boys' High 2001! I have my suspicions he had some inside knowledge, but I was unable to come up with any hard evidence. I will have to keep a close eye on him in future!

In 2nd division, Jason and Jenny were well clear of the pack and another Jason (Weeks) had a good win with the rest all tightly bunched. Then a week later, out of the blue, Erik showed up and thanked me for having done all the work for him, paid me with a dud cheque, and then disappeared into thin air.

See you in the conservatory, Colonel Mustard!

The Wairamarama Rogaine

Saturday 24 March 2001

The Auckland region's first official Rogaine is on. To be held over a 100sq.km in predominantly limestone terrain near Port Waikato, and ranging in height from sea level to 400 metres, the Wairamarama Rogaine promises something for anyone who loves the outdoors.

KAWEKA CHALLENGE 2001

On Saturday the 17th February I lined up with seventy-five other hopefuls to run/walk/crawl the twenty-eight kilometre course. I was in a sub-group of twenty veterans.

I had set up camp the night before along with many others to avoid the long drive to Kuripapango on the Taihape road before the run. The three pies washed down with cups of tea for my evening meal and the huge breakfast of bacon, eggs and venison steaks raised a few eyebrows among the "carbo loading" experts. I washed all this down with as much water as I could hold.

At 0830 the starter shouted "GO" and so we did. The superfit young guns soon took the lead as we started the climb up Kuri Hill. I tucked in behind a couple of old guys who seemed to know what they were doing and were setting a reasonable pace. I passed them and five others just before Kiwi Saddle hut, the site of the first checkpoint. The climbing continued up the leading ridge to the high point of Kaiharaki though the awesome views were masked in mist and steady drizzle. The second checkpoint at the top of Macintosh spur signalled the start of the downhill section which was "greasy as a Butchers". At the bottom I had run out of the 1.8 litres of water I had been carrying so had to refill from a stream which carries the risk of giardia (better a guts ache than severe dehydration). Now began the second half of the course, which on the map looked relatively flat. It wasn't. After approximately two and a half more hours of serious undulations I came out onto the main Taihape road two hundred metres from the finish. The spring to the finish tore back one of my big-toe nails, so instead of the victorious ending I had planned, a pathetic hobble was all I could manage.

It was over. Five hours forty minutes of pain and discomfort, at what cost? Five blackened toe nails, two of which I will lose; aching forearms from grasping bushes to stop my out of control downhill slides; an arse so chafed it hurt to swallow; and a bruised ego from observing the calm and collected finish of the first woman home on the long course (41K) only thirty minutes after me. The gains far outweigh the temporary pains – the sense of achievement and the third placing in the veterans' section will stay with me forever. We may be old buggers but there were a lot of much younger runners behind us! Two things I was grateful for were the ideal weather conditions and the fact that no one from the Deerstalkers Club saw me running around without a rifle.

Will I do it again? At this stage (next day), no way! But in the future when the expectant faces of my grandkids are looking up at me and they are begging me "tell us again about the Kaweka Challenge, Granddad", it would be nice to say "which course, the 28K or 41K?"

SUMMER SERIES #3 – ANDERSON PARK – 7 February 2001

It was a challenge to get things set up by 6pm, but thanks to Linda I just about got everything ready in time. After the initial pre-event tension, it was good to sit back in the shelter of the trees and wait for the first runners to come back.

It didn't take too long, as some of the really fast runners zipped around the course at great speed.

A bit of extra stress was added by the malfunction of the start/stop clock, but the trusty stop watch was a good substitute.

All in all, the event went well, and I was pleased/surprised that all of the controls survived unscathed. I enjoyed everyone's discussions about the optimal route choice. My plan of getting someone to cross the stream by having controls on opposite sides of the stream worked, which I was pleased about!

Thanks to everyone who helped collect controls after the event, namely the Morrisons and Dave Smith.

SUMMER SERIES #4 – HAVELOCK NORTH – 14 February 2001

After three cushy runs around the parks, it was time to give Roadrunner a bit of a gallop.

The two red courses were set on the black and white Havelock North map. All you had to do was to collect either seven or fourteen controls. The trick was to sort out which to go for, so as to collect your allotted total with the minimum of running. This type of event is a bit like a rogaine – an extra minute spent planning an efficient route can save you ten minutes of hard labour later on.

Geoff knows all about rogaines and soon had the Havelock North streets sorted. Todd Oates produced a very creditable run on foreign territory and Bevan Callaghan zipped around the shorter course in a time that left everyone else for dead.

The Havelock North High School colour map is not quite finished and needed a quick fieldcheck and some OCAD magic from Pamela so that we could use it for the white course. This will be a great school map when it is completed, encompassing the High School, the Intermediate, and Te Mata Primary. It could easily be extended to capture surrounding reserves and streets and still fit on an A4 page. Duncan Morrison headed off Katie Brigham-Watson on the white course by 11 seconds, just managing to avoid catching any girl germs.

Thanks to Kath for coping in the caravan on a VERY hot evening and to the usual press ganged control collectors.

COURSE SETTING CORNER

Most new maps prepared in recent years have been printed at a scale of 1:10000. This is frowned on by the International Orienteering Federation. In future, we can expect that for major events, the maps for adult classes up to M/W 40 will be at 1:15000. Older eyes can still have 1:10000 maps.

Controls must be sited on features that actually appear on the map. On my very first setting job I found a cute little pit on Te Mata Peak, so I shoved a control right down inside it. Not a good idea. The pit was definitely there – I could see it. And I drew the circle in the right place. But for some reason the customers complained that although the pit might well be there, it was not marked on the map. Therefore it should not have been used as a control site.

In somewhat similar vein, there is always a temptation to hide the control so that the competitors "will never be able to find it". But that is not what orienteering is all about. It is very clear that, when a competitor gets to the marked feature and to the position described in the control description, the flag and clipper must be immediately visible and accessible.

Another couple of rules and good practice:

Rule: A control shall be sited and the flag shall be hung so that the presence of a person punching does not significantly help nearby competitors to locate the control. (Comment: It is a gift of 20 seconds if you can see the person in front of you standing behind one of the boulders, obviously punching the control.)

Good Practice: If you are setting a control on a feature in an otherwise featureless area, where visibility is low, the feature used should be not less than 10% in width of the distance from the attack point. In other words, if a solitary small hill in a flat area of forest is 100 metres from the logical attack point, the hill should not be used as a control site unless it is 10 metres wide. Otherwise, even a person navigating with reasonable accuracy will miss it and then luck becomes too much of a factor.

COME TO THE COACHING BONANZA!

17-20 April, Rotorua

A lot is happening between the National Champs and the North Island Secondary School Champs in the Taupo area. This Coaching Bonanza will have something for everybody:

- ⊕ National Squad training camp
- ⊕ Development Squad training camp
- ⊕ Camp for club members, families and improvers
- ⊕ Veterans' training
- ⊕ Coach training for aspiring intermediate level coaches
- ⊕ Tutor training for current and future schools scheme tutors
- ⊕ Seminars on various themes

So book your Easter break now and come along to the Bonanza, it's sure to be a great social time!

The best time to do this is after the event, so as to arrive at the event fresh and to learn something for next time.

Costs

National and D Squads will have own pricing scheme.

Coach and tutor training will be subsidised ($45 per head for whole week).

Club members, veterans, etc. ($90 per head for whole week in self catering accommodation and $40 per head if camping – families get discount)

It is hoped that all clubs will send along a club coach as a gesture of appreciation for their work and to get them upskilled. If clubs don't have a club coach, here is your chance to get one!

If you are interested, email the details below to: cory-wrightj@cpit.ac.nz or post to: 38 Piko Cres, Riccarton, CHRISTCHURCH.

Squad and D Squad members apply to their respective managers.
